

School addition plans displayed

Superintendent of Schools Ted Cabaj proudly displayed the plans for this year's $1.2 million addition to Elk Point Elementary School at last week's meeting of the newly formed Education Support Council. The 968 square meters of new construction will include an administration area, library, classrooms and a science area. Modernizing of existing facilities, including changing the present library into an ECS room and revamping the special education area, has also been approved to the tune of $50,000.

Previous renovations and additions during 1988 and 1989 cost an additional $1.44 million, and resulted in modernization of classrooms and washrooms, an enlarged gymnasium, new mechanical room and storage area, and the addition of two relocatable classrooms.

Cabaj said that the entire project was planned before any work got underway, which streamlined the process. The extra mechanical facilities needed for this year's addition was built in during the last phase, for example. While the early stages of renovation in 1988-89 can only be described as 'a horrible experience,' Cabaj assured parents and staff that the new construction 'should all be clear sailing.' When the work is completed, Cabaj said that Elk Point Elementary will have 'the best unit functionally and visually' in the County.

Cabaj was questioned about changes in bus loading areas, but said he felt that loading on the east side of the school, even on County property, would not decrease the traffic problems, and that loading Elementary students there and F. G. Miller High students on the west side of 51 Avenue would, in fact, increase traffic. 'I don't know what the solution is,' he admitted.

With the project's architect presently at work on detailed working drawings, Cabaj says the addition may go out to tenders as early as the end of February.

Big Plans For Elementary

Superintendent of Schools Ted Cabaj (left) and Principal Don Conrad proudly display the plans for the $1.02 million addition to Elk Point Elementary School, which will see construction underway as soon as spring arrives. Additional renovations to the school are also planned.

Town approves municipal budget

Elk Point Town Council set a new record Monday night, when they approved the first Municipal Operational Budget ever completed this early in the year. The mill rate cannot be set until requisitions for School Foundation, School Supplemental, MD of St. Paul Foundation and Planning funds are received, which could be as late as June, but the approval of the municipal portion 'gives people the power to get on with their projects,' Mayor Bruce Kleeberger said.

The new budget puts funds from last year's operating surplus to work in 1990, and calls for a $7911 operating surplus at the end of this year. Water and sewer reserves and paving reserves will be built up by the addition of one half mill for each to return to the one mill level of several years ago, and both residential and non-residential garbage pickup will be increased by $2 per month to $7. The minimal increases will allow the Town to deal with all the things they need and want to deal with, it was noted.

One of the projects which approval of the budget will permit to go ahead immediately is the repair of the clarifier and clearwell at the water treatment plant. Additional funding to permit hiring a contractor experienced in the work to apply the epoxy coating was also approved.

Council also agreed to proceed with hiring Stanley Associates Engineering Limited to conduct a raw water supply study, under the terms of reference outlined in a September 21 letter from that firm. The study will include the existing source, ground water, North Saskatchewan River via a direct pipeline, and the facility serving St. Paul, as possible sources for Elk Point's raw water. Agreements for half the cost of the study to be funded by Alberta Transportation and Utilities have been signed by the Mayor, with the Town budgeting to pay the remaining half.

Deliberations on the bylaw amending the General Municipal Plan ground to a halt pending official notice from the Agricultural Society regarding their intentions regarding the property. The Administrator was requested to provide an analysis of the petition presented at last week's Public Hearing, for the March 5 meeting.

Allocation of funds from the Municipal Recreation / Tourism Areas grant was approved, with these funds now available for the projects to commence. A $24,800 budget for completion of the Rec Land campsites was trimmed to $20,000, due to the availability of less expensive materials than was originally anticipated. Bathrooms, bleachers, roadwork and parking for the ball diamonds were allotted $3740, while $10,000 will go toward construction of a $37,000 tennis court project. Interest shown by community groups in helping to finance building a concession facility trimmed the amount earmarked for that project to $10,000, with an additional $2000 for a water reservoir for the booth. Entrance signage will cost approximately $2000, while $11,000 was approved for specific projects, such as tee boxes, landscaping trees, clubhouse heating, etc. requested by the Golf Club. Expansion of one ball diamond to dual purpose status and building of a children's playground were not prioritized at this time, and $8600 remains in reserve, pending notification of another grant applied for through Recreation, Parks and Wildlife, which would provide sufficient additional funding for these projects to go ahead.

Policies regarding facility scheduling and operations of the Community Services Centre were discussed, as the new Board was not clear on the way these were handled. The WunderDogs will be asked to find another area to use for their practice sessions, as their use is perceived as a health risk for the seniors, preschoolers and parent nursery participants, due to the condition of the floor in the CSC gymnasium, which cannot be properly disinfected in its present state.

Council agreed to proceed with seeking the necessary formal approvals from the North Eastern

Filmfest underway

Elk Point Ruthless Writers' inaugural Film Festival got underway Monday night at Elk Point Public Library, with an audience from as far away as Bonnyville and Lafond in attendance.

The first night's program featured two films on 'Images of Women,' the first, 'Killing Us Softly,' dealing with violence and abuse, and the second, 'Goddess Remembered,' relating ancient goddess worship to the modern women's spirituality movement. Writers' group member Sherry Pelech introduced the films and urged those present to return for the other sessions during the week, as various issues affecting the modern family are explored.

Screenwriter Ruth Andrishak, whose film 'David' is part of tonight's program, was warmly welcomed at Monday's session. It was with her encouragement that the writers formed their group last year, and have since gathered monthly to pursue and discuss their literary efforts.

Tonight's program deals with 'Sex Role Stereotyping' and includes, in addition to 'David,' films on 'Being Male,' 'Anybody's Son Will Do' and 'Girls Fitting In.' It gets underway at 7:30 p.m. at the Library.

'Prejudice: It Can't Happen Here' is the topic of tomorrow evening's program, which will be held for that evening only, at F. G. Miller High School. Films to be featured are 'Teach Me To Dance' and 'The Wake.'

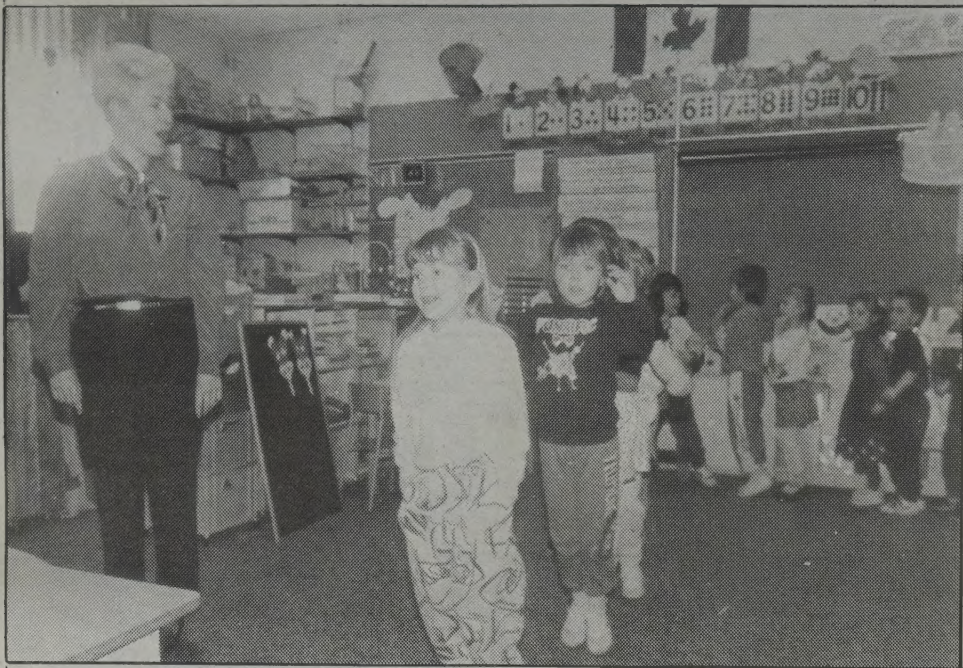

Friday's closing session of the festival moves back to the Library, with films on 'The Elders In Our Society,' entitled 'Great Grandmother,' 'Mr. Nobody' and 'George and Rosemary.'

Admission for each evening is $2, or $5 for the series. Coffee and snacks will be served, and each evening will end with an informal discussion session.

Council seats filled

Two vacant seats on Elk Point Town Council have been filled by acclamation. Charles Mahon and Louis Verhagen filed nominations on Monday, February 19, and were elected by acclamation as of 12:00 noon on that day. The new members of Council will be sworn in at the March 5 meeting.

Council accepted with regret the resignation of Alvina Schuhmacher, which took effect February 9.

Education Support Council Formed

The parents and teachers of Elk Point Elementary School met last week to elect an executive and study a draft constitution for their newly formed Educational Support Council.

The aim of the Council is to provide an independent organization of citizens, primarily parents, concerned with the establishment, encouragement and development of the highest standards in public education. The Council plans to be sanctioned by the County Board of Education, which will give them a voice on all levels of government, school, county and provincial, which effect education.

Karen Reed, who was elected President at the February 13 meeting, told the assembly of parents, "The only voice your child has to insure quality education is you. What this Council hopes to provide is a better understanding of the system to the parents so they may express their concerns with knowledge rather than with frustration. In doing this, a healthy two-way communication is established between the home and the school.'

Joanne Hutton will serve as the group's Vice President, with Monica Buksa as Secretary Treasurer, Holly Myshaniuk and Donna Bassett as directors, and Don Buryn as one of two Teacher Representatives. The other Teacher Rep seat is yet to be filled. Principal Don Conrad was also given an honorary seat on the Council.

Public meetings of the Council will be held every second month, with the next scheduled for April 10 at 7:00 p.m. in the Elementary School music room. Executive meetings will be held in the alternate months.

The Council has been granted the use of an office in the school for committee meetings and storage of Council materials.

Superintendent of Schools Ted Cabaj was in attendance to present the plans for the expansion of the school, and to answer questions on the project (see front page story).

Principal Don Conrad discussed the programs now underway in the school, such as the Excell Program which offers computer, art and drama activities for those students referred by teachers and granted parental permission, for the extra interest and capabilities.

Bridget Montgomery's program of parent-child counselling was discussed. Mrs. Montgomery has filled a long standing gap in the school. She is very involved and greatly appreciated. She can be contacted at the school, or an appointment can be made through the school office to meet with her on Mondays or Tuesdays.

A playground committee was set up to begin planning, organizing and searching for funds for the equipment and space required once construction of the addition begins.

Outdoor Education and Education Week committees were also struck to help the existing school committees with these upcoming events by providing new ideas, parental suggestions and assistance.

In closing the meeting, President Reed read the following poem, which she feels 'truly says it all.'

TWO SCULPTORS

I dreamed I stood in a studio
And watched two sculptors there.
The clay they used was a young child's mind

And they fashioned it with care.
One was a teacher; the tools she used
Were books, music and art.
One, a parent who worked with a guiding hand
And a gentle, loving heart.
Day after day the teacher toiled
With a touch that was deft and sure,
While the parent labored by her side,
And polished and smoothed it o'er.
And when at last their task was done,

They were proud of what they had wrought;

For the things they had molded into the child
Could be neither sold nor bought.
And each agreed he would have failed

If he had worked alone.
For behind the parent stood the SCHOOL

And behind the teacher, the HOME.

Possible sites for the development of an overnight recreation vehicle campground in town were discussed, and will be studied to determine the costs involved. A need for this type of facility has been noted by the Tourism Action Committee.

The possibility of having the Alberta Hail and Crop Insurance regional office relocated to Elk Point was related to Council by Councillor Allan Frankiw, who had discussed the matter with Agriculture Minister Ernie Isley. Council voted to actively pursue the possibility, as this would provide a much needed service to the farming community.

Implementation of the Facility Needs Assessment Study was deferred pending the results of a vote to be taken by the Pioneer Circle on the seniors' involvement in the project, as this will determine the size and scope of facility required.

Community Services News

Understanding grief

No event in life is more traumatic than the death of someone you love. It often seems as if no one understands or knows how to help. And there is no greater discomfort than wanting to help someone but not knowing how. Elk Point Community Services is pleased to offer a two and one half hour program called Understanding Grief. In this presentation you will learn about: stages in the normal grief process, coping strategies for those who may be grieving, and how to help someone who may be grieving.

This session may be difficult for anyone who has experienced a loss in the last few months or so. Please call to discuss this with instructor Bridget Montgomery.

The session is scheduled for Wednesday, February 28, from 7:00 to 9:30 p.m. in the Community Services Building. Cost is $3, and all proceeds will be used to purchase books on death and dying for the Elk Point Library.

To register, phone Community Services at 724-3800.

Lioness Environment Tips

Pollution and Youth

As you have read in the last few weeks, helping keep our environment clean is a matter of making the right choices in everyday life. It is important to become more aware of the effects people have on the environment. The best way to become a part of the pollution is to educate yourself and get involved. Here are some tips to get you started:

snow melt, the first wildflower, the heaviest snowfall and the warmest day. Include some drawings and photographs. Over the years you will be able to compare the dates.

* Spend some time outside and learn to appreciate and respect the environment. Go biking, hiking, swimming or canoeing.

* Get involved! Join a nature club or start one of your own.

* Choose an environment-related topic for a project at your annual Science Fair held by your school.

* Start a diary or "thought book" of natural events in your area. Some of the things that you could include are the return of the first bird, the spring

* Contact your federal and provincial environment departments and get information on topics such as acid rain, climate change, water pollution, wildlife, toxic chemicals and parks.

Elk Point athletes off to Camrose

Figure Skater Charlene Anderson, Biathlon competitor Dennis Jasinsky and the Elk Point Girls' Handball team are among 218 Zone 7 athletes from every corner of northeastern Alberta who will march into the Camrose rodeo arena in a cheering throng to join with thousands of other aspiring Alberta athletes as the ceremonial torch is lit to declare the 1990 Alberta Winter Games open this weekend.

Charlene placed second for Juvenile in the Winter Games preliminaries, and was the only skater in the Elk Point, St. Paul and Bonnyville area to qualify for competition. Juvenile skaters must not have reached their 12th birthday by July 1, 1989, and must also qualify by the level of tests they have mastered. Charlene has been having a good season and placed 9th out of 16 skaters in the Provincial "A's" in Wetaskiwin, quite a feat for a first year Juvenile skater against many others who have competed at that level for 2 or 3 years.

Dennis was the proud winner of a silver medal in Biathlon at the North Eastern Alberta Winter Games in Wainwright. He is a member of the Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps Arrowhead in St. Paul, and gained his first Biathlon experience at a Cadet Biathlon Clinic.

The Girls' Handball team was formed only a few months ago, under the direction of Physical Education teacher Henri Joly, who held a workshop for students interested in trying this interesting sport. The girls were jubilant winners of silver medals in Wainwright, and are eager to face further competition this weekend.

New community centre -to be or not to be?

By Irene Magnusson

Having attended the Pioneer Circle meeting and heard the presentation by Mayor Kleeberger regarding a proposed new Community Centre for Elk Point, and since read the many paged Facility Study prepared by Randall Conrad and Associates, the old mind reels with all these figures. That there is a need for such a facility seems undeniable—affording it seems something else.

Leaving aside all the needs and wants of various groups and individuals in Elk Point and area for a new community centre, there remains, in large black and white, the cost. Can the town and area afford it? Most of those surveyed want it—yes; need it—yes; would use it—yes. Are willing to help pay for it—yes.

According to the Study, the cost of the complex that would most closely meet the stated needs of those involved, is $1,250,000. I added up the list of grants possibly available that could be applied to the cost, and they came to around $600,000. Some, at least, of this grant money has to be 'matched'—meaning the group(s) applying for the grant have to put up an equal amount, (which can be at least partly labor and/or materials).

There is an expectation that debentures (loans) could be obtained to cover as much of the remainder as could not be handled readily by special fundraising efforts.

The upkeep of the facility seems to be estimated at $52,500 annually, and this includes salaries, administration, insurance, as well as maintenance and utilities, all of this offset by annual income from rents, programs, etc. of $42,000, leaving a deficit of $10,000.

After a few more pages of facts and figures, I conclude that there is expected to be an annual cost per resident of Elk Point (to pay the interest on loans, shortfalls, etc.) of $32.00 per capita.

Which isn't such a lot, is it? Less than the cost of a tank of gas, or a pair of sneakers—and quite insignificant,

IF THE FACILITY IS WHAT YOU WANT OR NEED.

This is a building, with parking, that could be used by many people for many things. Plays, parties, dances, banquets, meetings, pool, bingos (unlimited), floor curling, —I should think weddings, funerals, sales, crafts, lectures, etc., etc., as well as the space for the children of Play-school and the needs of the CSC.

It appears that if the Seniors (Pioneer Circle) do not join in, the building would be much smaller in size, meeting most needs, but the funding would be drastically less, since much of the grant money is offered especially for seniors. There might be some reduction in total cost, if the seniors were willing to share a bit with other groups, (as they do now when they allow sales, funerals, meetings, etc., in their hall). There would, of course, have to be a careful bit of scheduling, as there is now— whoever tries to schedule a bonspiel and a funeral the same day?

But just think. A classy new building, clean and spacious, lots of storage room, a nice big modern kitchen (shared), lots of parking space, maybe even a meeting room where the smack of pool balls wouldn't interrupt every word. Room, perhaps, to hold a dance once in a while...I won't go on—your own needs and wants can fill in. But I do think there could be a lot more members who would come and sign up with the Pioneer Circle, if there were a better place to meet.

A special meeting is planned for all members of the Pioneer Circle, on February 27, at 2:00 p.m., to discuss and decide, once and for all, if they will go along with this new Community Centre. If you are a member, you have a vote. Think about it—this could be a chance to get something decent and useful, that will be standing there for our grandchildren to use, long after we are gone—as well as for their use right now.

Call a neighbor, if you don't have a ride. Get there, and have YOUR say.

In Our View

A letter from the Editor

Wednesday, February 20, 1980. The St. Paul Journal headlines reported Don Mazankowski's election for a fifth term as Member of Parliament, Elk Point Pacers dominated their annual invitational tournament, and 56 rinks competed in the Elk Point Men's Open Bonspiel.

At the end of the Bonspiel report, the final line reads, 'Submitted by Vicki Brooker.'

The Journal was short an Elk Point correspondent at that time, Rilla Higgins having recently resigned from that post, and their sports reporter was busy at the basketball tournament. I had taken my daughter Marge, who then covered a number of events for Elk Point Reflections as a junior reporter, to cover the bonspiel, and noticed the absence of a Journal representative. That evening, as she pored over her notes and pounded out her story on the old Underwood portable I'd owned since high school, I thought, why don't I do a story for the Journal? So I borrowed her notes and did just that. Monday morning I took my story in to the Journal office, and said, 'I thought you might be interested in this, since you didn't have anyone there.'

Wednesday, when the paper emerged from our mailbox, I could hardly wait to look at the Elk Point page. There it was: my very own story, in print! What a reward for an hour with the typewriter!

Even more exciting was the next week, when a bright yellow envelope from the St. Paul Journal with a cheque and a letter from L. H. Drouin, Publisher, saying he would be pleased to have more Elk Point news, if I were interested in writing it. Would I ever! My only newspaper experience, if you could call it that, had been as a literary editor of a Junior High school paper back in 1958-59, which meant I got to type copy onto mimeograph stencils without making mistakes, and later staple the papers together. This sounded a whole lot better, and I decided to give it a try.

Early stories dealt with further adventures of the curling club, news from the Elks Lodge, and a Chinese cooking mini-course offered by Further Ed. One day, Mr. Drouin handed me a camera and said, 'Here—go get some pictures to go with your stories.' I didn't like to tell him I didn't even know how to load it, but fortunately my older children had learned about the same sort of camera in junior high Industrial Ed, and gave me a crash course. My first story with photos went in the next week, reporting on a 4-H cattle grooming workshop.

Only 3 months after my first story hit the press, my name and phone number were added to the Elk Point section masthead, with the title 'Elk Point Correspondent.' By mid-June, I had worked my way up to covering the District 4-H Show in St. Paul, and after a few more months, Mike Levin, who still covered the 'important news' in Elk Point, decided maybe I could handle Chamber of Commerce meetings and save him the trip every two weeks. He continued to cover Town Council until he left the Journal in the spring of 1981, when that too became my beat.

In the fall of 1980, I got the idea for a column, and when I approached Mr. Drouin, was encouraged to go ahead with it. 'Meanwhile, Back At The Ranch...' ran for over five years before I ran out of new ideas with which to entertain the readers each week.

In March, 1984, the Journal purchased the six month old Elk Point Lakeland Review from Mannville Reflections, and I was transferred to part-time staff of that paper. In September of that year, I took over as editor, and have continued in that position ever since.

At times, I was joined by as many as 5 correspondents from the outlying areas, from Dewberry, Clandonald, Heinsburg and Fishing Lake, Spring Park, Ferguson Flats and Lindbergh, and right here in Elk Point. Only Irene Magnusson, on a local basis, and Mildred Dunham, Spring Park etc., are still with me, but none of the others have been forgotten and their contributions helped to build the Review into a successful weekly paper.

Ten years have seen many changes in Elk Point, and in the news which we cover. Our stories have been of boom times and layoffs, triumphs and disasters, as well as the day-to-day doings of the community. Sometimes, looking back, we find that we are covering the very same kind of event for the fifth, sixth, or tenth time—or in the case of Council or Chamber, maybe the 200th time.

It's been an exciting decade, and I look forward to covering many more years of good news in the future.

Sincerely,
Vicki Brooker

Major discoveries in days long gone

By Irene Magnusson

I was thinking about my Uncle Harold, who passed on a few years ago. He was well into his 80's when he died, with grey hair, beard and a hearing aid. Old, you would call him. But to me, he was always young at heart.

I define 'young' in this instance, as someone who can learn. Uncle Harold was always learning. He really loved to find out new things, always delving into some thought that stirred his curiosity. He thought everyone was like that, so if he found out something new, some amazing or astonishing fact, he wanted to share it with those around him.

Uncle Harold was a very young pioneer, when schools were few and far apart, and he only managed grade two or three, inside the schoolhouse. His writing was mind-boggling, his spelling, to say the least, creative and challenging. But he certainly didn't let the lack of a classroom around him slow down his learning process.

Uncle Harold read everything he could get his hands on and he read not just to be entertained, but to gain knowledge, to learn as much about this crazy world as he possibly could. In his enthusiasm, he thought everyone else wanted to know, too, especially kids, since they spent so much time in the learning process. Besides, we were handy, and we had been (sort of) taught to respect our elders, so were not so apt to walk off and start banging the pots or splitting wood as the adults of our world.

Many times he held us spellbound (or verbally imprisoned) while he expounded at length on some article he had read, or book, thrilled with the information he had acquired, and sure we would be too. Mainly, we were. Well - I was. I'd better not include my brothers and sisters. Were they? Maybe...

But, yes, I wanted to know how aluminum was made, and how to lasso a calf, and where the Texas longhorns came from, and how to repair a wagon wheel. I thought history was great - always have - and if he wanted to explain how to fix a carburetor, or learn what kind of a thistle grew on the North Saskatchewan river banks - so be it.

I learned a lot from Uncle Harold. I wish he'd had the opportunity to go to University - years of reading and studying, to fill his active, inquisitive mind. One thing, surely, he must have transferred from his mind to mine - the curiosity germs. I find myself reading very odd books and papers, always fascinated by the complexities of the earth, the universe, animals, vegetables and minerals.

But mostly by the ingenuity and intelligence of Man. By his curiosity and inventiveness, by necessity and yes, greed, over the centuries, Man has discovered, invented, contrived, explored, snooped, dug into and ferreted out all these countless contraptions we are surrounded with today. And some of them are pretty terrific. Even myself - I learned to read.

One of the books I got my eyes into these past few cold days is called 'The Universal Almanac'. There are 600 pages, in the smallest of print. There are many words. I may never read them all; but one page has these lovely facts. If, like Uncle Harold, I

Auxiliary role in pet therapy

Last week's story on the two successful years of the Pet Therapy program at Elk Point Municipal Hospital unfortunately omitted the large role the Elk Point Hospital Auxiliary played in the program's inception.

Activity coordinator Carolyn Onusko met with the Auxiliary at their January 25, 1988 meeting to discuss ways the Auxiliary could help the patients. Longtime Auxiliary member Hughie Krucik had previously read articles regarding the benefits of contact with pets on the elderly and infirm, and asked if she could bring in a pet to visit the patients. The trial run was approved and a date was set up. The first visit was such a success that Pet Therapy has continued on a monthly basis ever since that time.

The WunderDogs visit to Adventure Hour took place in April, 1988, after the Pet Therapy program was well underway.

Our sincere apologies to Mrs. Krucik and her fellow members of the Hospital Auxiliary, and to Mrs. Onusko, for the error in the story, and any inconvenience this may have caused.

have you cornered, and I can hold your attention, please read on. They have listed names of these discoverers, mostly. I will not. Just the naked facts, Mam.

It says here that way back in B.C., year 2,400,000, ancestors of human beings start making stone tools; 750,000 - ancestors of human beings learn to control fire; 7,000 - humans make pottery and cloth; 5,000 - start mining and smelting copper ore.

In 3,500 - potter's wheel invented, followed by wheeled vehicles; 2,000 - c interior bathrooms built (Crete). By 260 - Greeks use mathematics, (lever and other machines). In 200, Romans make concrete; 140, the Chinese develop papers and water-powered mills were used.

After A.D. - 190 - porcelain developed; 600 - windmills made in Iran; 704 - printing; 1040 - gunpowder invented. 1190 - compass, by Chinese; 1267 - first eyeglasses mentioned; 1288 - first gun, China. 1440 - movable print; 1590 - microscope invented; 1608 - telescope in Holland.

In 1620 - first submarine used; 1642 - first adding machine; 1643 - barometer; 1654 - pendulum clock. A couple of years later, the spring-wound watch appears. In 1698, the steam engine appears; 1701, seed drill; 1709 - thermometer invented.

In 1733, the 'flying loom' was invented, starting the industrial revolution; in 1764 the spinning jenny followed. 1783, first hot air balloon goes up; in 1792, coal gas is used for lighting. 1800, battery for electricity; in the next 20 years, canning, steamboats, photography.

1825 - train to carry passengers and freight; photography, telegraph, vulcanizing, fertilizer and sewing machines followed fast. The first oil well was drilled in 1859, followed by the machine gun, torpedos, typewriter, barbed wire, and the telephone in 1876. The closest I can find to 100 years ago, were the Eiffel Tower, diesel engines and motion pictures.

Now, aren't you glad I told you all that? And it's only a beginning. Come over and borrow my book - if you can stand to learn the rest. There are a MILLION things in that one book, I'm sure. Waiting to be read.

Father, son vie for mixed grand challenge

Last weekend's Elk Point Mixed Bonspiel came down to a father-and-son final in the Grand Challenge event, as Jim Penz of St. Paul and his son Steve, Elk Point, took up their brooms to work toward the trophies. Steve's rink, which included his wife Monique, Murray Babcock and Joanne Derewynka, was declared the winner in the contest which went right down to the wire.

This is the second time this year that the pair has met in a bonspiel final. "We did the same at Glendon Men's, and he gave us a licking there, too. That one went right down to the last rock," the senior Penz commented.

Steve agreed that both finals provided excellent competition, but predicted that if the two meet again his father's rink will be the victor.

This year's Mixed Bonspiel was the smallest in well over a decade, with only 12 rinks taking part. Because of the size of the event, the Curling Club agreed to forgo merchandise prizes in favor of a jackpot format, with the top two rinks in each event taking home a cash award.

It is four years since a hometown rink took home the Doug Berg Memorial trophies, with Murray Babcock skipping the last Elk Point team to win it in 1986.

The Les Meger rink placed third in the Grand Challenge event, while Brad Anderson placed fourth and moved into third event action.

In the second event, the BJ Trucking trophies went to Barrie Young's rink, who defeated Don Anderson's foursome in the final. The Elk Point Ambulance rink placed third and Phil Shankowski fourth.

The third event saw the Treasury Branch rink, skipped by Richard Lavoie, sweep home to victory for the Peter Yewchin Memorial trophies, with a victory over Brad Anderson's rink. Bill Currey placed third and Dave Yake fourth in the event.

Grand Challenge Winners

Second Event

Third Event

WHAT KIND OF FAMILY COPE S WITH MENTAL ILLNESS?

LOOK AROUND YOU.

It can happen to anyone. At any time.

In fact, one in eight Canadians can expect to be hospitalized for mental illness at least once in their lifetime.

It doesn't distinguish between age or sex, race or religion. It doesn't care about the size of your house, or the kind of car you drive.

And no one's to blame when it happens, least of all those afflicted.

Outrage, despair, fear, and denial prevent us from seeing the sickness for what it is—a medical illness that can be treated, not a personal weakness or a lack of willpower.

Mental illness really can affect anyone, in any family. That's something that hits home.

To learn more, contact the Alberta Mental Health Services office nearest you. Or call your local branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association.

MENTAL ILLNESS. IT CAN AFFECT ANYONE.

Pacers farm team captures tournament

By Len Gagne
Sports Writer

The Hooters were only supposed to be a minor league team, but they turned more than a few heads this past weekend in Elk Point when they took home all the marbles.

The F.G. Miller Gymnasium was once again host to some impressive basketball this past weekend as the Elk Point Pacers held their 17th Annual Basketball Tournament.

Twelve teams from across Alberta took part in the three-day event which saw a team that should be winning GREY CUPS, taking top spot.

Pothier, Worman and Ham are usually names synonymous with astro-turf, but not this weekend.

Edmonton Eskimo pivot Tracy Ham led his "farm team" with an impressive 34 points in Sunday's final.

Co-pivot Rick Worman tallied 12 points of his own while lineman Hector Pothier notched four as the Hooters went on to defeat the Edmonton Norwood squad by a 103-89 score.

Ham's impressive 34 point outing (including five 3-pointers) earned him tournament MVP honors.

Now for those of you who are thinking that any kind of basketball tournament that has a football player for an MVP, musn't have been too entertaining... think again.

There was definitely some high quality b-ball players at this event including one All-Canadian and two former U of A Golden Bears.

After the game, Ham was pleased with the tournament's end results.

"It was my first time up here, the people were really nice and the tournament went real well."

Although Ham's squad ended up on top, Ham wasn't too surprised.

"I tell you what, we came out in the first half a little stiff and I think they (Norwood) had the advantage by playing just before the final because they were really loose and we had to just get the cobwebs out."

Although Norwood held the lead completely throughout the first half, the Hooters seemed to be gaining momentum by halftime as they were only four points down.

"We just went out and played hard and all the guys put their heart into it. So that's what you can do when you get a bunch of guys that enjoy playing basketball and partying together, so when you put that all together, you're bound to win something," Ham said.

Rick Worman was also pleased with the weekend's turnout.

"We went out to Ray's farm and he got us fired up so we said we're going to try and bring it home for him and even though it was a little scary in the first half but we pulled through, it was a lot of fun, a classy tournament and I'm glad I came."

Hooter's head honcho, Ray

Danyluk was probably the most excited with his team's performance.

"We're here!

"We just wanted to be competitive because we're the Pacer's farm team.

"We have local guys from Elk Point and just to make it interesting, we brought in a few guys."

Look to next year's 18th Annual Pacers Tournament for even more action.

TOP DOGS!

The Elk Point Hooters (Pacers farm team), emerged as champions in this weekend's Elk Point Pacers 17th Annual Basketball Tournament. They are: Tracy Ham, Ray Pare, Dave Mistol, Kurt Osterman, Rick Worman, Jim Forrest, Ray Danyluk, John Jackson, John Prat, Giles Anderson, Fred Ford, Wayne Shacker and Hector Pothier. Congratulations Hooters!

First home ice loss for Elks

Elk Point Elks suffered their first home ice defeat of the season at the hands of the Paradise Valley Jets on Friday night, in the last home game of their regular schedule, losing by a single point in overtime.

The Elks started the game on a positive note, with goals by Murray Cochrane and Kerry Loughran off assists by Jim Vinge, Terry Isaacson and Terry Wozniak in the first period and by Murray Cochrane assisted by Jim Vinge and Vic Stepa early in the second giving the Elks a 3-0 lead until well past the midpoint of the game.

Paradise Valley finally got on the scoreboard with just under 7 minutes left in the second period, Dale Sunderland making the goal off assists by Glen Sunderland and Dean Davidson.

The final Elks goal of the game came at 5:26 of the third period, as Murray Cochrane scored his hat trick goal off assists by Jim Vinge and Kerry Loughran to make the score 4-1 in the Elks' favor. Glen Sunderland scored for the Jets 38 seconds later, assisted by Dean Davidson and Dale Sunderland, and came back with an almost-instant replay a minute and a half later, this time assisted by Dale Sunderland and Scott Ambler. The Jets tied the game with 1:17 left in the period, Dale Sunderland scoring off Dean Davidson and Glen Sunderland, and both goalies repelled valiant attempts to break the tie before the clock ran out.

Glen Sunderland scored the tie-breaker 54 seconds into overtime, assisted by Dale Sunderland and Dean Davidson, to give the Jets the win and break their total-point tie with Elk Point for second place in the Sask-Alta standings.

Friday night's loss proved a bad omen for the Elks as they embarked on a weekend road trip, which ended in a 9-7 loss to Neilburg and a 7-4 defeat at the hands of the league's cellar-dwellers, Hillmond. Their final game of the regular season is scheduled for tonight in Paradise Valley.

Thank You

I would like to take this opportunity to thank my family for the lovely way they honored me on my seventieth birthday, with the corsage, flowers and birthday cake.

Also special thanks to Doris and Lois who arranged the evening with the supper and entertainment, which was enjoyed by all.

Many thanks to all my friends who came out and brought food for the supper, also for the cards and gifts I received. It was an evening I will always remember.

Sincerely,

Musical coming to Glendon

The Alberta Opera Touring Association presents the Fantasticks at the Glendon RCMP Hall on March 3.

The longest running musical in the world, the Fantasticks has run for 30 years in New York and has been produced in every state in the U.S.A., every province in Canada, and many more places all over the world.

Try to remember the kind of September when grass was green and grain was yellow.

Familiar words from one of the best known songs in the repertoire of the musical theatre, words which for more than two decades have introduced the most vivacious and enchanting of New York musicals — THE FANTASTICKS. While other shows have opened, enjoyed often memorable runs, and then disappeared, The Fantasticks has consistently radiated such energy and broad appeal that audiences continue to rave and pack the house year after year.

The Fantasticks story is a fast-paced, vibrant display of life's perennial situations — encompassing the tender naivete of a first romance, and the bitter awakening which can interrupt such idyllic sentimentality. The Fantasticks score has been widely heralded as one of the most exciting and memorable works ever composed for any on or off-broadway theatre. The shows hit song TRY to REMEMBER has become a standard throughout the world, and has been recorded by countless vocalists, orchestras and instrumentalists.

This is a full company production live theatre. The evening starts out with cocktails at 5 p.m. and supper at 6 p.m.

MP Deborah Grey is the guest speaker. Door prizes. Tickets $30.00 each. Sponsored by the Beaver River Constituency Reform Party of Canada.

Pioneer Circle hears Mayor

By Irene Magnusson

A very good turnout of members, over forty, gathered for the February 13, 1990, general membership, held at the drop-in centre. The meeting was moved up to 12:30 p.m., to accommodate Mayor Bruce Kleeberger, who had been invited to inform the seniors of the progress in plans for a new Recreation Centre for Elk Point.

Minutes and Financial reports were dealt with, under Vice-Chairman Morris Cooper, who chaired the meeting in the absence of Chairman Palinka, due to illness. Minutes were accepted as read; finances seemed to be in good order. In correspondence, Secretary Grace Barwick read the information on the grants offered for Seniors Home Improvement, pointing out that all or part of this could be used to purchase use of a "Medic Alert" system.

A donation was sent to Telorama, the Safety Deposit Box in the bank was inspected, and a Film Festival at the Library noted. Upcoming bonspiels were announced, including a Mixed Spiel on March 22-23, 1990. The Monday night Bingos were reported on by Phyllis Zarowny, doing very well, these dollars going toward the 'building fund'.

Mayor Kleeberger arrived at 1 p.m., with his report on the proposed program, in which the Pioneer Circle has been actively involved, to ascertain the feasibility of a new building, with shared facilities, to be built on the lot now occupied by the so-called FCSS Building.

Seven other groups are interested in promotion of the concept, and all have in-put, but the main interested party appears to be the Pioneer Circle. They have eligibility to the most grant moneys, and would use the major portion of the new facility, so it seems imperative that they agree to the continuing plans toward procuring this building, in order for it to proceed.

Mayor Kleeberger answered questions put from the floor, and offered a booklet, with detailed outline of the plans to date, for the members to study.

Following the Mayor's departure, members discussed the proposal at length, finally agreeing to call a special meeting in two weeks' time, at which time a vote will be taken, to decide once and for all, if they will back the project.

This meeting will be at 2:00 p.m., on Tuesday, February 27, 1990. ALL members are requested to attend, and make their wishes known. This may be difficult, since there are near 150 members, and with only the 40 or so present, the room was quite full;

however, they should make every effort to come out and make their vote. This is a building that could be around for a long time, used to good advantage by our children and grandchildren after us. Large, new and modern — isn't it what you deserve?

County of St. Paul No. 19 1989 ANNUAL REPORT

GOALS OF EDUCATION

County of St. Paul #19

The Board of Education of the County of St. Paul #19 will manage the services, programs, and affairs within its jurisdiction in order that:

1. The students achieve a level of knowledge and skills consistent with their abilities, following the prescribed programs of Alberta Education and/or locally developed programs.
2. The students develop positive attitudes towards self, others, their school and its staff, and education itself.
3. The community served feels the County school system is providing a service which meets the educational, social, cultural and other community needs.
4. The employees enjoy working conditions which are conducive to the provision of a high level of service and the maintenance of a high level of morale.
5. The buildings and equipment of the County school system shall be suitable for the education of the students and shall be adequately maintained.
6. The financial affairs of the County school system shall be managed, controlled, and accounted for the purposes for which they are required.

FROM THE SUPERINTENDENT'S DESK

Judging by criteria such as achievement scores, Diploma Exams, attendance records, limited numbers of students failed, parent involvement and support, minimal discipline problems, and extensive involvement of students and staff in intra- and extra-curricular activity, Education is alive and well in the County of St. Paul #19.

Continued support for, and involvement of, staff in a large variety and number of in-service activities related to existing and new programs, reflects the spirit and willingness of Board and staff to keep abreast of educational change and interest in maintaining a high calibre of educational standards, both performance wise and at a positive and humanistic level.

The Board of Education continue to focus on cost effectiveness but with high priority for improving the physical and psychological learning environment as evidenced in successful completion of a large number of building additions and modernization projects, hiring of additional professional and support staff, professional development support, increased support for materials, resources, and supplies, etc. despite the reality that the operational surplus has been negatively impacted.

The forthcoming year brings continuing and additional challenges. Several large building projects have received the green light for 1990, the meagre 3.5% increase in grant support when most aspects of educational operations are significantly higher; pressure groups requests; updating new policies in order to adjust to new circumstances; the proposed GST and several other up-coming issues will demand that the Board of Education make some hard and creative decisions.

Public interest, support, and involvement in the coming year will certainly be required to traverse some of the environmentally "rough spots".
